

I think there's a storm

Happy

1970 cloud

9

U N I O N
of the cloud
18

SPORTS * EDITORIALS * ANNOUNCEMENTS

In Minnesota there are 4 supermen, Gary Larsen, Alan Page, Jim Marshall and Carl Ellen. These men weigh on the average of 270 pounds, and Minnesota fans love every pound of them. They can get to any quarterback anytime and leave a pile of aching men behind them. One of the men, Jim Marshall, was one of the two people in pro football to make this mistake. On a cold day, Minnesota was playing the 49'ers, George Mira (49'ers) threw a pass to his halfback who in turn fumbled it. Marshall picked it up and ran all the way to the goal line, but, the wrong one. But that is his only mistake and probably the only the four made.

Chris McWilton #5

The Chicago Bears made an offer on O.J. Simpson Junior. They offered him the mayorship of Chicago and half of Ford Motor Co. and $500,000. O.J. replied, "I am not going to play until I'm payed what I am worth."

Unknown Student

"A CHAMP

Remember Patti Shoolman? The one who went to play tennis in a tournament in New Orleans? Well she's back now and has a trophy! She came in second place for doubles (tennis doubles). That means she's second in the whole United States (for doubles)! Isn't that great?!

CONGRATULATIONS TO YOU PATTI!!!!

Ellen Seebold

Dear Editor,

I have read your last issue. I see that Mr. Scully does not have anything to say. This must mean he is weakening!!!

Steve Fisher

Dear Editor,

I am pleased to read in your editorial section, childrens' criticism on various things from lunch in the cafeteria to girls wearing slacks. Yet, I feel that as mature 6th graders, everytime we criticize we should do it constructively and state how you can improve what you are criticizing. How else can improvements be made?

Miss Panepinto #11

Dear Editor and Staff,

I find your newspaper most interesting, amusing, and I look forward to every issue

You are very fortunate to have interested members of the faculty and staff to help you with such a project.

Keep up the fine work gang!

Beverly Peck
Parent

N O T I C E

Henceforth when you bring an announcement to room 17, do not go to 18 or if you go to 18, don't come to 17 because we are all one big happy room.

Room 17 and 18

Want Ad

I am in need of some dimes, dated as follows:

1946	1946D
1946S	1949D
1949S	1955S
1958

Different dimes have different values. If you have any of them, please call me at 377-4829 after 6 p.m.

Thank you -

Laura Hilbert #18

THE UNION PREDICTS

In 1980 everything will be different and complicated. Schools will have no people teachers, only computers. You will go into a dark small room, shut the door and a big screen will light up and start teaching you. At the big colleges there will be no need for professors droning away because it will be the same thing as elementary school only harder. If someone falls asleep a big screen with a lot of numbers on it will light up and that student will be punished. There will be carpeting on the floors and walls to cut down noise. There will be moveable partitions in some of the classrooms.

Food will be completely different. They will be just little capsules that you just add water to and they become a full meal, complete with dessert.

Wives will no longer complain of housework that works them to the bone. They will have pushbutton window shutters and pushbutton door openers.

The television room will be as big as a movie theater complete with snacks. Telephones will be the kind that you dial a number and a big screen lights up and you can see that person and talk to him or her.

There will be cars that run on electricity and no exhaust pipe because there will be no exhaust. Everyday there will be trips to the moon, Mars and Venus.

Pollution will be controlled and the Great Lakes will be completely cleaned out but it wouldn't take much money. Air pollution, by then, will be no such thing.

Poverty will be conquered, the slums will be turned into apartments. Guess what? Phyllis Diller will be the first woman president. That is my prediction of the 1980's.

Lynn Lazarchick

Do you want to have some fun?
Join the Chess Club in Mr. Dintruff's hideout - Room #18 - Wednesdays after school.

Lynca Schwock #17

In 1980

In 1980 I think it will most likely be what we dream about now. This is what I think it will be like. We will live underground. Somewhat like a rabbit hole only be made of brick. We will have all plastic (non breakable) furniture and eat food pills at meals. Our homes might be made of pressed garbage. One reason I think some people will live underground is it's going to get pretty crowded on the outside. The reason I think we will have plastic furniture so our trees don't get ruined. The reason we will eat pills is so we won't need so much food to grow. These pills will provide enough vitamins and protein. There might be enough food for all. One reason I think our homes would be made of trash is that it would make more room and to get rid of it. The schools will be at home and people will be living on Mars and maybe Venus.

Melissa Morio

In 1980

In 1980 black and the white people will be good friends and the black and white children will be playing with each other. When you walk down the street, you probably will see black and white people together everywhere.

Probably air and water pollution will be solved in 1980.

In 1980 they will design schools differently. Instead of teachers they will have computers teaching kids. Computers will just ask some questions and the kids will answer them on a screen.

Office workers will probably have computers to help them. The computers might even be able to operate other machines.

In 1980 they will probably find a cure for cancer and a lot of other diseases.

Anita T.

J A N U A R Y

January is bad,
There are no holidays to be had.
Except for New Year's day.
Which will soon fly away. - E. SEEBOLD

In 1980

In 1980, the world will probably be very unusual. Food, instead of coming from some kind of an animal, will come from a factory in the shape of a capsule.

Schools will probably have movable partitions. If two or three classes want to teach the same thing, then all you have to do is move the partitions and you have one big classroom. The rooms will have carpets to prevent noise. It would be quieter for the classrooms below. Computers will be teaching children instead of human teachers. Then children can be taught at their own pace.

I think the moon by 1980 will probably have building on its surface used for research. Rockets going to the moon will be so common that they will not be announced on TV or on the Radio. And by then rockets might go to Mars.

In the homes, the pushbutton will be formed. Push one button a window opens without any struggle. Push it again, it closes. Push another button a door opens. Push it again it simply closes.

In the sea, the scientists might build a town or community. People could live down in the sea just as easily as they live on land. Some kind of dome would cover the town. Scientists will be able to go down deeper in the ocean to find out if there is any plant or animal life there.

By 1980, there might be a woman presidents and maybe even Negro presidents.

In 1980 pollution might be almost gone. The air will be free of the pollution from factories and from the exhausts from cars.

Phyllis Mayer

The 70's

What will happen in the 70's?
I wonder what we'll see!
Carefulness and justiceness will surely be our key
Money, Movies, and Poverty
Trouble surely will be here
Unjusticeness will be made but mostly by fear!
The 70's will have
as you can see
Trouble and dispair
But happiness will be here for me
With simple care - COLLEEN CAMPBELL #5

The World in 1980

I think the world in 1980 will be pretty neat. They will have experienced men out of work. The world will have computers to take the mens places in the factories. To have bigger and better machines to operate instead of people.

In Medicine they will have plastics, not real human parts; plastic like hearts, liver, lung, kidneys. They already have plastic feet, legs, arms, hands etc. to transplant in human bodies.

I might even be ahead of myself, but maybe there will be lady astronauts, we are just as strong as the men. Who knows? The space control will be sending people up to far away planets and back. Maybe to live there and have a control system.

I think we might have a lady Presiden or a black President. There is nothing wrong with these Presidents.

For doctors, there will hardly be any. You go in the office and tell him where it hurts and it will be fed to a computer. The answer will come out.

I hope and "know" that the war in Vietnam will be finished and no more wars. The families will be reunited again for holidays or anyday for happiness. No more "killing".

The sewage pollution will be under control or almost gone. New things are being invented now.

More toys to play with, gadgets to work, cookware, clothes, food almost anything. My ideal dream is a mechanical man or lady to do all the work and to help others. Also little carts to go around in school and around your home. A big comfortable chair large enough to ride around in.

P.S. I hope this will all come true!
Cause it would be a Great World with these new improvements.

Cheryl Seaman

What I Think the 80's Will Be Like

I think the 80's will be the best years. People will be flying through space in their own rocket ships. People will live on the moon with a big glass dome over the city. The grocery store owners will have to send rocket ships to go back to earth and get supplies of food. They put the food in little capsules. They will have computers in schools instead of teachers. The kids will be glad of it. DONALD ELLSWORTH #18

In 1980

In 1980 I hope the world will be a better place to live in. I hope there will be peace all over.

There will probably be electric cars to lessen pollution. I hope there will be a chemical to stop the pollution in the Rivers, lakes, streams etc., so we can go swimming.

I would hope there will be more food and better housing for everyone, so that everyone has a chance for survival.

I imagine there might even be a woman president, or even a Negro president. I hope the voting age is lowered to eighteen. Those who are eighteen and who are fighting for our country in Vietnam should be old enough to pick a president.

We probably will have exploring stations up on the moon where men can live, and we will also have men up on Mars and maybe other planets too! Perhaps we shall have a woman astronaut.

They may even have bubbles over houses so you have a pleasant climate all year round. They also might have heated roads so they are clear from the snow. There might be a way if you have guests to press a button and a room expands and more furniture appears.

If you were in a car and you were going on a trip and you didn't feel like stopping at a restaurant but you were hungry you could push a button and a table would come out of the floor and a television would be turned on and a snack would be waiting for you. If you were at home and you didn't feel like cooking you could press a button and a pill would come out. Then you would put a few drops of water on it and a whole dinner would appear.

There will probably be computers as teachers instead of professional teachers. There will be carpet, cushioned chairs, bigger desks, and maybe electric erasers. In the lunchroom you will be able to sit anywhere you want. There will be tables for 2 people, 4 people, or as many as you like. You could sit alone or with everyone. To eat all you have to do is read the menu, push there and you have what you want just like a restaurant. The gym will be like a big auditorium. In gym class you can do anything you want to. You can skate, on an ice rink, you can swim, or play basketball. Anything you name you can do. In Art you can paint, crayon, paper mache, or draw anything you want. In music you can listen to records, radio, a tape recorder, or anything you want to, of course you can still sing. In library you can take as many books as you want to out. The library has 1,000's and 1,000's of books. You name it they've got it. The buses are all push button. There is still a driver though. He will push a button and it will take you straight home.

In the factories you might not have as much work as before. Most of the factories will probably be push button. The men will get more vacations, more leisure time at home.

And that's what I think the world will be like in 1980.

Sandy Wright

The World in 1980

Clothes

In 1980 clothes will be more fashionable. Also the skirts will be going higher each and every year.

Pretty soon the mini skirts will be up to their thighs.

Pollution

I think water pollution will stop. They will make laws so that people will be more careful in throwing litter around.

Space

I think in 1980 more men will go to the moon. They will study the moon surface more thoroughly. They will also stay much longer. I think they might even land on Mars.

Travel

In 1980 I think there will be wider newer roads. Cars will have more safety features and probably faster. Airplanes will be made to carry more passengers and people will travel more by plane.

Housing and Population

The population will increase causing more need for places for people to live. This in turn will mean farm lands will be less.

Taxes will probably be the highest they have ever been in the United States.

JULIE MALCOLM

In 1980

In 1980, Lake Ontario will be clean and my children will be swimming in it. The problem with the white and black will be solved. The white people will be living across from the black people. Our children will be playing with their children. There will not be any slums.

About the schools, our children will have their education from computers. In India the children will be going to schools like we have now. In India they will have food.

We will be having kidney transplants almost everyday of the year. Oh yes, about heart transplants they will be popular too. Then we will just be thinking of lung transplants.

With the astronauts they will go to the moon almost every two weeks. In 1980 we will have our first woman on the moon. She will be excellent in those things and she will have a masters in moon things.

Cancer will be going to the hospitals. So if you had cancer the doctor will have you in the hospital and out in no time.

We will have electric robots in our houses. So if you wanted to lie down the robot would bring the bed to you so you would not have to walk. If you wanted to go to the store you would just have to push a button and the sidewalk will start to run. When you wanted to come back you have to tell the checker to push a button so you could go outside and go on the sidewalk.

The children will have robots and the mom and dad will have robots too.

Anne Cookson #18

The Dumb Elephant

There was this dumb elephant, you see,
He got his nose stuck in a tree.
Once he stepped on a car
And then into some tar.
This elephant was dumb as could be.

Fabio Compare #8

There goes a little snowflake,
falling to the ground,
but in another minute,
it cannot be found.

Anita Bartolotta

1980

In 1980 we'll have a cure for cancer. There will also be cures for the common cold, heart disease and arthritis. Better instruments will be invented for hospitals. We will have better medicines.

There will be a law against smoking. We'll have drugs that teenagers use under control.

We'll have electric cars. This will solve part of the pollution problem. Factories will have a way to get rid of their waste besides dumping it in the water and air. Every house will have its own trash incinerator. The slums will clean up half way.

In 1980 we'll have a woman president. Space ships will be going to Venus. The war in Vietnam will be over.

We'll have houses that won't burn. Furniture that won't burn. Even clothes that won't burn.

The different races will get along together. There won't be anything like the Black Panthers. The riots still will go on.

In schools we'll have more modern desks and lighter books. We will be going to school for a half year, with a week off for Christmas and a day off for all other holidays. We won't be marked with letters.

The voting age will be lowered to 18.

We'll have villages on the moon with domes over them and villages underwater.

Carol Bilger

What Will It Be Like In 1980?

What I think it will be like in 1980. I think that maybe we'll solve the problem of pollution like air pollution and water pollution. So we can go swimming in the beaches and lakes. I think we'll have electric cars like the cars will run by batteries like one big battery for a year. I think maybe we'll have a depression. I think L.S.D. will go off the market. I think we'll have some schools for negroes and some for white people but I wouldn't mind having negroes in my class. I'd really like to know some negroes. That's my idea of what it will be in the 1980's.

Chris McGuire #18

In the Year 1980

I think that in the 1980's our schools will have changed a great deal. Almost all the schools will be one story buildings. Instead of the usual long rectangular schools they will be round. There would be about thirty triangular classrooms in each school. So, if you were to take off the ceiling it would look like a cut pie. The doors would be at the wider part of the triangle, not the narrow part. On the outside would be the hall going all the way around leading to the library, gym, art-room, music room, etc.

The equipment would probably be different and better too. For instance, if you were doing a project on President John F. Kennedy, you could go to the library and play a tape recording on him and some of his speeches.

I think that in 1980 learning will be more fun and easier. There would be a computer for every subject and one that would keep track of marks.

By 1980 the water pollution problem will be solved. The garbage from Lake Ontario had been collected monthly and sent into space. Pretty soon it was clean again. Then they did it to the other Great Lakes and it worked! Even though it did cost a lot.

The last cigarette company had been closed down on January 28, 1980. It's about time! The government has just declared it illegal to possess any left over cigarettes. On the same day a special committee just burned the last marijuana.

The space program has just landed a man on Mars. We have discovered plant life on Mars. When the astronauts brought the plant back to Earth, it grew to an enormous height of six feet tall in a half hour. When scientists later examined it, they found out it was just like an ordinary sunflower with a very active pituitary gland.

This is my prediction of 1980.

PAT EVANS

WHAT IT WILL BE LIKE IN 1980

Cars in 1980, a lady's car might be something like this: There will be contour velvet seats, one will be an ejection seat for the disposal of boring dates. There will be a push button that says, "Quick Shower", when curtains are raised and a platform is raised to lay on top of the seat, touching the bottom of the curtains and water automatically goes on and soap is in a soap dish, nearby.

After a quick shower you can wash your hair by sitting on a bench in the convert-a-room and just push a button marked "Hair Wash" then "Hair Set" and last of all "Hair Dry".

Then put on a beautiful gown with silver sparkles and push some more buttons. Lipstick, eyeshadow, and powder, now you are ready for your date and you'd better hope he's not a bore or you will have to dispose of him with your ejection seat.

On your date you might want some popcorn so press the button marked "popcorn" and start the engine, soon some corn is popped, it comes up through a chute in the dashboard ready to eat. Popcorn is salty so how about a drink of soda?

What kind: "Orange, Grape, Root Beer, Ginger Ale, Cherry or Lemon Lime?" Press the button of your choice, after you have pressed the button, the soda appears out on the tray extending out of the dashboard, it came down a chute too, but to keep it from spilling there is a cap on it. After you are through, you can throw out the containers in a basket.

To help you remember the time there is a clock, set it at the time you should be going home, and if you are in the car, it rings, if you are not, it says, "Calling the owner of the Compact Pussy-cat, would you return to your car? Then you come, push the button marked "START" and drive home. To stop push the button marked "STOP".

LYNDA SCHWOCK

The Blue Fly

I once watched a pretty blue fly
Buzzing around a fresh apple pie.
I tried to swat him,
But I never got him.
He just took off and flew to the sky.

Ken Smith #8

LOST

There was a boy who went out to play
Who got careless and lost his way.
When he found his way back
He stepped on a tack,
And boy! Did he have something to say!

Lori Rosser #8

A Goat Named Lily

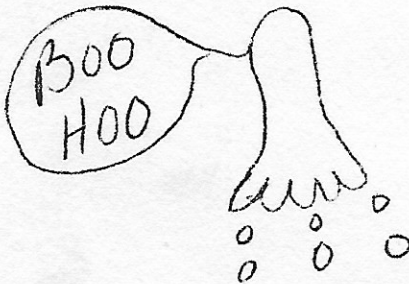

There was once a goat named Lily,
Who was unusually silly.
She butted the milkman in the rear
And knocked the truck out of gear.
That Goat! That silly Lily!

Jeli Malagamba #8

There once was a lady named Marge
Who was as fat as a barge
So she went on a diet
And that really was a riot
For she came out twice as large!

Ellen Seebold

Did you ever see a football?

"Are You a Salted Peanut"

Once about eight years ago, in a small town in the suburbs of Nashville, Tennessee, a young boy grew up. When this boy was small he was always in trouble breading windows, tearing down small buildings and other things. His parents worked and he always was alone. This was the reason why he was a brat. After he had grown up, he joined a group of thieves, and that's where the story takes place, in their meeting shed. They are trying to decide which store to rob. They decide that they'd split up into two groups, three in each group. As the young boys' group neared the store, they noticed that the owner was in the back of the store working at a des, so they decided to go in the back entrance. They charged in and the boy said, "just hold it right there pops". "We're only going to rob you". The other two started to fill up their sacks while the boy covered the old man with a pistol. All of a sudden the old man yelled, "you young hoodlums wouldn't dare try to shoot me"! And he charged at the boy. Then the boy shot and the man fell dead to the floor. The boy stood there for a moment staring at the dead man, then he threw his gun against the wall and ran out of the store. The next morning the police found the boy dead in the street with a knife in his heart and lying next to him was a piece of paper that told them where they could find the other five hoodlums and also the words, "Are You a Salted Peanut".

David Waasdorp #9

The Cake That Never Got Baked

There was a lady named Blake,
Who tried to bake a cream cake.
She tried so hard,
She fell in the lard,
And washed it off in the lake!

Kathy Fitzsimmons #8

A Troubled Romance

Lois Hartsough #8

There was a young upstart,
Who had an attractive sweetheart.
He really was a pest
And gave her no rest,
So, from him she decided to depart.

Magic Squares

5		1
		3
4		6
2

This is a Magic Squares Puzzle
 All the numbers must equal 17 with just the numbers 1, 2, 3, 5 and 6. It should equal 17 going across down and diagonally.

Kathy Barbierer
 #6

The object of this game is to get the total 34 on all rows at the same time - horizontally, vertically and diagonally.

The numbers to use are: 1-16

Raney Duntton R.5