OUR MICE

We have two mice in our room. Their names are Salt and Pepper. The black one is Pepper, and the gray one is Salt. I put a piece of apple in their cage. Five hours later, after we came back from Gym, the piece was gone.

Salt likes to eat and Pepper likes to sleep.

Salt likes to run around in the cage. Just as we were going home, Salt was pacing up and down on the top of the cage.

BEAN GERMINATION

In our class, we are doing experiments with kidney beans. We took small aluminum pie plates, and filled them with cotton. We put the beans on the cotton. Then we soaked them well with water. Next we put Saran Wrap over the top of the pie plate. We water them every morning when we come in.

Cindy Hoy's bean plant is the highest, and she used tissue on the bottom. Jeannie Ross is blocking her bean to see if it will still germinate. Paul Towler is cutting off the root after it germinates to see what will happen. Phoebe Landre is watering hers with colored water. Colleen Campbell is putting hers together to see if they will germinate. Steven Wahlers is going to change the direction of his after it germinates. Mike DeNicola is going to tip his plate after it germinates. I am going to put a magnifying glass between the light and the two beans to see if they will grow better.

Next issue we will let you know how the experiments come out.

What kind of beans will not grow in a garden?

Ans. Jelly beans

In 414 we had to make some maps. Miss Hamilton gave us a long time to do them. We made them of the United States. We also had to show the form. We brought them in, our teacher said they all were good.

BLAST OFF WITH 419

A couple of weeks ago our classroom ordered some model rockets from the Estes Model Rocket Company. The rocket is a do-it-yourself model. You get all the parts and put it together.

After the rocket is all put together, it is put on a pad, the pad is a rod, so in the early moments of lift up, the rocket won't tip over.

The battery connected to the engine will ignite it. After a short time the rocket will delay and zoom into the air at perhaps a speed of 400 miles per hour and as high as 2500 feet!

If you would like a catalog of the rockets send 25¢ to:

Estes Industries, Inc.

MR. BARBOUR

Mr. Barbour was born in Richmond V.A. He lived there for one year. Now he lives in Rochester.

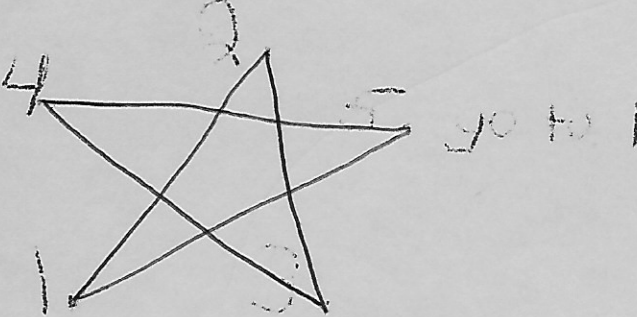

His favorite sports are snow skiing, football and swimming. His favorite hobbies are building model rockets, electronics and reading.

He went to the State University College of Education at Brockport. He did not teach before he came to Rochester.

On December 23, he is going to marry Miss Cheryl Ann Ahaleche, a recent graduate of the University of Rochester.

DIORAMAS

Students from 420 made Roman dioramas. They showed different scenes. They are made out of cardboard, pipe cleaners, and foil and placed in a shoe box. They are very interesting. You can see a table full of them on the third floor, right by the steps.

TELESCOPES

We of 420 also made telescopes. The students made them well. You can see from our room out the window. As you turn one, it gets bigger and smaller. The students made them from cardboard, milk cartons and many other things. They made two types of telescopes, reflecting and refracting.

LOST HAMSTER

Miss Linke's room 407, has two hamsters. She was cleaning the hamster cage, Friday, November 3rd, and set the hamsters on the floor. One hamster went behind some books. When Miss Linke went back one hamster was gone. Then she found out there was a hole in the wall that the hamster had gone up. She leaves food near the hole. In the morning sometimes the food is all gone.

P.S. The hamster has returned!!!

409 has a student teacher. Her name is Miss Bundschuh. She comes from Fairport but went to Nazareth College. Her hobbies are reading, skating in the winter and sailing in summer. She is now teaching math and spelling to us. Fourth or fifth grade is the grade she would like to teach. I am sure she will make a nice teacher.

I WISH

I wish I had a radner,
A blimsey and a jun,
'Cause if I had those things,
I'd have a lot of fun!

We'd go out and play in the rancicles,
And dig up yis and yo,
And then we'd climb the icicles,
To throw down a kipertoe!

After that my radner, my blimsey,
and my jun,
Would fall down with the kipertoe,
And have a nice, long run!

So now you see why I want those things,
To play with me all day,
A radner, blimsey and a jun,
Would come and stay for fun.

What Would I Do With One Thousand Dollars?

What would I do? Well, I suppose I'd spend it. I'd buy cakes, candy, ice cream, pizza, pop, and other things to eat. Then I would gather up some of our families friends from Ohio, bring them up here and throw a party. What a blast we would have! I would buy my sister a new bed to go with her dresser, and my parents a head board for their bed. I would buy my little brother some toys and the other one some trucks. The money left, if there was any, I'd put in the bank, either for college or some day when I need some extra money. I doubt if I will run into that amount of money and if I do I'll probably spend it on everything I don't need.

THANKSGIVING

First we have a feast,
then I take a walk in the east.

We can eat lots of corn,
and play with the bull's horn.

The Indians taught us how to plant things, and after that they taught us how to sing.

There is a great big Indian and he likes me,
so I asked him to plant a tree.

THE OLD CLOWN

The old clown is very unhappy. NO one laughs at him anymore except the other clowns. The only reason they laugh is because they think he's foolish for going on being a clown when he is so old and he's lost his talent. Georges Rovault painted this clown when he was in one of the saddest moods.

One day after the painting was made, the old clown was sitting outside his circus tent when he saw an object in the sky. It turned out to be a flying saucer. It was coming toward him. Then it crashed in the fiels nearby. The animals in their cages roared when they saw it. A little green man came out of his ship. He was hurt. He asked the old clown to bandage him up. He promised the old clown he would grant him any wish he desired.

After the old clown took care of a the little man's broken leg, the strange little man asked, "All right now what is your wish?" "If only, I could be young again", exclaimed the old clown, Immediately he felt straight and strong again. He rushed for a mirror. Not a wrinkle or frown in sight!" He was young again! He was doing his act again and making people laugh again.

In the Week When Christmas Comes

In the week when Christmas comes
In our household busy
Everyone is 'round sneaking
In the drawers and closets peaking.
But to their great surprise,
They find no Christmas prize.

Lynne Manuel - 412

This Is The Week When Christmas Comes

It is the busiest week of the year, singing Christmas carols for all to hear.
It is a joyful time, for everyone.
It is full of noise, from all the boys.
It is cutting down trees,
on your hands and knees.
It is Santa coming, with the sleigh bells ringing.
It is smelling Christmas treats baking,
while you are waiting.
That is the week when Christmas comes!

Lynn Peterson - 412

The Old Clown

You look so sad and tired, old clown. Why are you unhappy? Are you allowing the younger clowns to get the better of you? You don't have to retire from the circus yet, so why are you sad? You still have some acting to do yet so get out there in that circus ring and show those younger clowns that you are still the leader of them all. You still have a lot of laughs in you, and the boys and girls are out there waiting for you to make them laugh.

Please wipe away that sad frown and replace it with a big smile!

Gerrit W. Heerkens - 416

How can you go out of the room with two legs and come back with six?

ans. Bring a chair.

Mice are very funny creatures,
They make very funny features
Some are white and some are black
Some need polishing on their back.

Mice like cheese and lots of sweets,
Sometimes they even eat their feet.
Actually mice are cute,
So don't be afraid of Mack and Mute.

THE FUNNY RABBIT FLOP

The saucy young rabbit named Flop
Started eating a farmers new crop
The farmer came out
And started to shout
At that saucy young rabbit named Flop.

The saucy young rabbit named Flop
Tried but he could not stop
He tried and he tried
Until he cried and he cried
That saucy young rabbit named Flop.

The saucy young rabbit named Flop
Tried but he could not hop
Mother started to sing
For the rabbit named Bing
That saucy young rabbit named Flop.

The saucy young named Flop
Is safe home and don't think he's not
But he's in bed
He's sick in the head
The saucy young rabbit named Flop.

Irene Siegfried - 409

There was a young man of Hong Kong
Who had just bought a new gong
People said does it ring
He replied, no just bing
So he bought a new gong in Hong Kong.

Round and deep
And good to keep
Because you use it
Once a week.

Ans. Bathtub

Up and down, up and down
Touching neither sky nor ground.

Ans. a pump handle

What's this I see?
Could it be a frown
On the wrinkled face
Of my favorite clown.

Who has entertained the world
During all these years,
And made people laugh
And forget their fears?

Cheer up, old clown
And try to smile.
Your act will still be good
For quite awhile.

When your clowning days
Are finally through,
Everyone will smile
Whenever they think of you.

So, dry up those tears.
Wipe away that frown
The world loves you,
So cheer up, old clown!

PLANETS

Look up there at Mars,
It looks like it has candy bars.
Look up there at Mercury,
It looks like it is in a hurry.
Look up at Saturn,
It looks like it is sitting and learning.
Look up at Neptune,
It looks like the moon.
Look up at Uranus,
It looks like a bus.

Rules

All school
Have rules
Even those without "em
It's the rule of those schools to have no rules,
And that's all there is about them.
